President's Message

Wow! What a month! During this last month, the Republicans of Douglas County have participated in four different events:

- SNRW's 9/11 Patriot Dinner
- SNRW's Emigrant Trail Tour
- DCRCC's Heritage BBQ, and DCRW's Country Dinner Dance

SONDRA LUNCHING AT LAURAL SPRINGS RANCH

Each of the events was filled with participant enthusiasm and excitement and were very successful fundraisers. The Republicans of Douglas County are on the move. If these were any indication, Republicans are unstoppable in 2022!

SNRW had a great meeting in October with speaker U.S. Congressman Mark Amodei. He was extremely informative giving us an update on politics in Washington D.C. In addition, Mark made a donation to our club. We thank him for his generosity and we will use the funds to help get Republicans elected.

At our next meeting, you will be voting for our 2022 SNRW Executive Board. Candidates are:

Sondra Condron for President
 Sharla Hales for 1st Vice President
 Barbara McRoberts for 2nd Vice President
 Jan Muzzy for Corresponding Secretary
 Nancy Jarvis for Recording Secretary
 Jacie Peters for Treasurer

Our Nominating Committee certainly put together a wonderful slate for you.

In addition to welcoming Amy Burgans, Douglas County Clerk-Treasurer, to be our speaker, we will be announcing our Entrepreneur of the Year, and we honoring our Veterans. It will be an interesting and important meeting, so please make your reservations as soon as possible.

The Membership Drive has started. You can renew your membership at the meetings, or by mailing a check, or on our website. A portion of your dues is contributed to deserving Republican candidates. We need your participation to accomplish our mission of electing Republicans.

Mary Porter and I attended the 36th Biennial Convention Nevada Federation of Republican Women on October 23, at South Point Casino in Las Vegas. We represented SNRW and will report on the details that will affect our club, i.e., bylaws, elections, etc., in next month's Rumbler.

Stay engaged and stay connected, the Republican Party needs you. Especially in November, we want to thank you to all our Veterans for their dedicated service to our freedom!

Thank you for all that you do for your SNRW Blessings, Sondra

Volunteers in the Spotlight— Carol Aldax & Candice Martorano

By Mary Porter

Renewing our SNRW membership during the ongoing membership drive draws focus on our club's heritage and calls to mind Carol Aldax, a founding member who has renewed her membership since the club's founding in 1998.

Carol was the initial SNRW Corresponding Secretary and subsequently served as our Recording Secretary. She is pictured here in 1999 with current President Sondra, who was our initial 2nd Vice President.

When contacted, Carol provided the following information about her continuing involvement in our club:

"I am proud to be a charter member of Sierra Nevada Republican Women. Even though I am no longer an active member, I cherish all the wonderful times of meetings, fundraisers, and get-togethers. Of course, it was special sharing all this with old-time friends and meeting new people.

I continue to support SNRW because I value the many programs and events they continue to support. To name a few: Annual St. Patrick's Dinner, 911 Memorial Dinner, Americanism, Scholarships, honoring an Entrepreneur of the Year, and of course, supporting Republican candidates.

Even though politics takes many different turns in today's times, we are still so blessed with all our freedoms and gratefully and thankfully say 'God Bless America'."

Reflecting on our club's growth during our 2022 membership drive brings to light one of our youngest members, Candice Martorano. Some of you may recall that while in high school Candice prepared the program covers for DCRCC's Heritage Fund-raisers. Candice is pictured holding her painting of the main house at the Dangberg Ranch, the front cover for the 2013 fundraiser.

Candice joined SNRW while attending Pierce College, Los Angeles. She now is completing undergraduate work in aeronautical engineering at San Jose State University. She is President of Sigma Gamma Tau, SJSU Chapter, a national honor society in aerospace engineering. SGT focuses on outreach to the community by going to local schools and providing activities for students to learn aerospace-based concepts.

Candice is also is a member of Advanced Space Exploration and treasurer of the Rocket Club. The Rocket Club allows students to build model rockets and earn a high power launch certification. After completing her bachelor's degree program in spring 2022, she plans to further her education at the University of Colorado, Boulder. She is interested in spacecraft and spacecraft design. Candice hopes to earn a master's degree and have a career in that field.

From Carol Aldax, a founding member, to Candice Martorano, a member in her 20s who has picked up the torch, SNRW members and associates bring so much to the table and accomplish a great deal. We work together to focus on the goals. We are proud of our heritage and look forward to continuing to do all we can to make Nevada and America great again.

Perhaps you have a friend or relative that you should invite to join us. You could call attention to the members upon whom this article has focused.

Veterans Day November 11th

Since its inception in 2014, WAVE has assisted numerous Douglas County Veterans in accessing federal, state, and local benefits. Identifying and meeting the needs of our veterans in Douglas County is our primary goal. The WAVE movement consists of volunteers, Veterans, and concerned citizens. Our mission is "to help Veterans obtain the care they earned as promised." We work with the County Social Services office and with the VA Health Clinic in Gardnerville.

WAVE has funded and provided services such as housing, food assistance, job placement, and transportation. This support is made possible through fundraisers, donations by local clubs and organizations, such as Sierra Nevada Republican Women, and the generous donations of individuals like you. To help support these valuable services to our veterans, please send your donations to WAVE, INC., P. O. Box 1675, Minden, NV 89423.

Teach Them of the Flag

Teach the children of the Flag,
Let them know the joy it holds
In its sun-kissed rippling folds;
Don't let patriotism lag:
Train them so that they will love
Every star and stripe above.
As you teach their lips to pray
Teach them always to be true
To the red, the white, and blue;
Praise the Flag from day to day,
Tell the children at your knee
All the joys of liberty.

Let them know and understand
How the Flag was born and why;
Tell how brave men went to die
Gladly for their native land:
Whisper to them that they must
Make the Flag their sacred trust.
Love of country ever starts
In the home and at your knee;
There the Flag shall come to be
Shrined in patriotic hearts
They shall gladly serve their land
When they know and understand.

History of the Holiday

What was once called Armistice Day is now known as Veterans Day. It originally commemorated the end of World War I with the signing of the Treaty of Versailles in 1919.

However, the fighting had already ended about seven months earlier, on the eleventh hour, of the eleventh day, of the eleventh month. That is why November 11, was originally chosen to mark a day of remembrance for the veterans of WWI. When it turned out WWI was not as it was hoped, "the war to end all wars," the holiday was later revised to include American veterans of all wars."

The Uniform Holiday Act in 1968 began changing many holidays to Mondays, thus creating long weekends in the hopes of stimulating the economy. Coincidentally in 1971, another bill appeared setting commemorations of Veterans Day for the fourth Monday of every October. My guess would be that it was moved to an earlier date to allow more time before the four-day Thanksgiving weekend.

However, some states balked at the change as a matter of historic and patriotic significance, adhering to the original eleventh hour, of the eleventh day, of the eleventh month. A few years later in 1975, President Gerald Ford signed another law that returned the annual observance to its original date, November 11, as of 1978.

2022 Meeting Venue Options

Jacie Peters, SNRW Treasurer

For 2022 which option would you like to see SNRW choose for the meeting location?

45 responses

- Stay at the current COD Casino with the $5 cover charge
- Return to CVI with a Chef's Choice Buffett at a cost of $35 per person
- Return to CVI with a Cobb Salad Buffett at a cost of $30 per person
- Return to CVI with a Deli Sandwich Tray at a cost of $27 per person

2022 Meeting Venue Options

At our October lunch gathering, we were presented with the options for meeting venues as follows:

1. Remain at COD Casino at a cost of $5 per person. Board Members have been personally subsidizing this to ensure the club is not at a loss.
2. Return to CVI with one of the following:
 - Chef's choice buffet @ $35 pp
 - Cobb salad buffet @ $30 pp
 - Deli sandwich tray @ $27 pp

An electronic survey was sent out and the graph above shows the results as of Oct 21st. The survey will remain open thru November 2nd.

Feedback Received:

- * With the COD reducing cost, does that mean more funds go to SNRW? Yes

* Can we ask that the room capacity is increased? The Fire Marshal is responsible for setting room capacity.

* I will not go to COD due to the smoke smell and the bathroom in the main playing area. Great news, you may enter the venue thru the side directly into the non smoking area and we have restrooms in the meeting room. No need to enter the main playing area.

* If we return to CVI, we still have to wear a mask. Yes, you are correct.

* Can you get the COD catered. If we have a volunteer who would like to lead up this charge with the head counts, then YES!

* Sharing a sit-down meal, leads to more discussion & friendliness. We agree, there is nothing like breaking bread and connecting with your friends. We encourage you bring your lunch & enjoy!

Same Kind of Different as Me

by Ron Hall (Author), Denver Moore (Author), Lynn Vincent (Collaborator)

*This true story became a New York Times best-seller and then a movie.
It begins outside a burning plantation hut in Louisiana . . .*

After loving the movie, Same Kind of Different As Me, I read the book by the same title wanting to learn more. Ron Hall and Denver Moore write this true story in their own distinct voices. I enjoyed the book even more than the movie, as I had the luxury of rereading passages that were close to my heart.

Ron Hall, an international art dealer, and his wife Deborah lived an affluent life in Texas. Ron was content to simply enjoy life, hobnobbing with country club friends, eating at fine restaurants, and traveling. Deborah, however, felt called upon to help feed the homeless and disadvantaged at a Dallas shelter. As they drove to the shelter for the first time, Ron blanched at the homeless camps and rough neighborhood. He didn't even feel safe driving in the area. Undaunted, Deborah insisted they continue on and offer their services at the shelter.

Denver Moore's childhood and early adulthood in the 1950s and 60s in Red River Parish, Louisiana, amounted to modern-day slavery. As a young black child, he worked in the cotton fields alongside his grandfather. Throughout his youth, he continued to pick cotton, given a shack with no running water to live in and food to eat, but no pay. If he needed clothes or any other supplies, he bought them from The Man on credit. However, with no salary, there was no way to pay it off, so he was always in debt.

As a young man, he suddenly left that life, "riding the rails" into the big city, but in 1968 was sent to Angola prison for armed robbery. He was freed after serving ten years of a twenty-year sentence.

Denver found his way to Dallas, living on the street with no skills, no job, and no hope to enjoy what most of us call a decent life. He could neither read nor write, was a tough, bitter man whom most people learned to avoid.

When Denver first met Deborah, he resisted her cheerful attempts at friendliness.

Deborah continued to help at the shelter and reach out to desperate people. She paid special attention to Denver, whom she believed down deep, under the crust of grime and mean demeanor, was a good person. As Denver would later say, "Miss Debbie was the onlyest person that ever loved me enough not to give up on me."

Same Kind of Different As Me is skillfully written with vivid scenes of brutality, pain, and betrayal, but also of love, sensitivity, and caring. There are disturbing scenes, but also those of beauty and spiritual fulfillment. I highly recommend this true accounting of everyday, ordinary people who cared enough to make a difference.

Recommended Video Regarding Critical Race Theory

As you probably are aware, two town hall meetings scheduled by our Douglas County School Board dealing with the issue of Critical Race Theory (CRT) were held recently. Paul Jensen, Librarian at Carson Valley Middle School, has prepared a video concerning Critical Race Theory and how it has found its way into our Douglas County schools.

He was asked to share his video with our school board, and he made the video a public document earlier this month. The video lasts about 75 minutes. Watching it is time well spent.

Direct links to the video are: <https://youtu.be/IE8L-xDh-5U> (video on YouTube) and <https://rumble.com/vn973c-critical-race-theory-k-12.htm> (video on Rumble).

Mr. Jensen subsequently condensed his video to about 48 minutes (video on YouTube). The link is rebrand.ly/dcsdcr.

Watch for a Bylaws Blast Coming Your Way

Members,

Keep your eyes peeled for an email blast from your Bylaws Committee. It will contain proposed amendments to our SNRW Bylaws, along with a correction and some explanation for the proposed amendments.

Please look over the material in advance of our November 10 lunch meeting, at which time members in attendance will vote on the proposed amendments.

*Your Bylaws Committee
thanks you.*

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME ENDS

On Sunday, November 7th, clocks fall back an hour at 2 a.m., allowing us an extra hour of sleep that weekend.

Daylight Saving Time (DST) has been used for more than 100 years and has caused a never-ending debate most of those years. But do its pros outweigh its cons? The negative? The days will feel shorter with sunset an hour earlier. As they continue, the evenings will be darker longer.

Several petitions have been circulated to make DST permanent—while others seek to abolish it. In 2019 President Donald Trump attempted to keep it year-round and a bipartisan group of senators sought to make DST permanent across the country. While states can opt-out of daylight saving time on their own, they need congressional action to stay on it permanently.
